Ten Reasons why 300,000 careful buyers have chosen the New Chevrolet Six since January 1st

Ever since the date of its introduction, the new Chevrolet Six has swept triumphantly on to greater and greater heights of popularity. Value for value and price for price—buyers have compared it with other cars in the low-price field. And the result has been an overwhelming public preference—over 300,000 buyers since January 1st. And everywhere the enthusiasm is constantly increasing—for the new Chevrolet Six combines, as does no other car in the world, those ten great fundamental factors which careful buyers are now demanding in the cars they buy.

6-Cylinder Smoothness

Due to the finer inherent balance of its six-cylinder valve-in-head motor, the new Chevrolet provides that smooth, quiet, flexible performance which is the distinguishing characteristic of the truly fine automobile. At every speed, the power is delivered easily, freely and without annoying vibration. You can ride and drive for hours without annoying rumble or noise fatigue—every mile a delight for both driver and passengers.

6-Cylinder Getaway

And in sheer brilliance of performance, as well as in smoothness and quietness of operation, the new Chevrolet Six is a revelation. An automatic acceleration pump results in remarkably fast acceleration whenever the accelerator is suddenly depressed. And a new high-compression non-detonating cylinder head eliminates every trace of "lugging"—even when you have occasion to accelerate swiftly in high gear.

6-Cylinder Speed

Naturally, Chevrolet's powerful six-cylinder valve-in-head motor might be expected to provide speed in abundance. But even more important than the speed of the new Chevrolet Six is the smooth, quiet, restful comfort you experience at every point on the speedometer. You can open the throttle wide with a feeling of complete security—and you come to the end of a full day's drive entirely free from the weariness caused by engine noise and body rumble.

6-Cylinder Power

The great reserve power of the new Chevrolet Six is a constant delight. The steepest hills are taken with ease. Heavy roads are negotiated without the necessity for frequent gear-shifting. And even at the higher speeds, there is always that feeling of confidence which comes from the knowledge that additional power is at hand . . . instantly available for whatever need may arise.

Modern Safety Features

The new Chevrolet Six is equipped with every modern safety and convenience feature—typified by a full ball bearing steering mechanism, nonlocking 4-wheel brakes with separate emergency brake, foot controlled adjustable two-beam headlights, automatic fuel pump, theft-proof Electrolock, electric motor temperature indicator, and Fisher VV windshield and adjustable driver's seat in all closed models. As a result, it is one of the easiest and safest cars in the world to handle.

Better Than 20 Miles Per Gallon

The marvelous performance of the Chevrolet Six would be considered exceptional in any automobile. But in the new Chevrolet it is nothing short of sensational—for here it is combined with operating economy of better than 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline. As a result, those who can afford to own any automobile can afford to own and operate a Chevrolet Six!

Exceptional Riding Comfort

Another vital factor that has influenced hundreds of thousands in their selection of the new Chevrolet Six is its exceptional riding comfort. Built on a wheelbase of 107 inches . . . offering the deep-cushioned luxury of bodies by Fisher . . . and with the entire upper structure cradled on four long semi-elliptic shock absorber springs—it travels the roughest highways with amazing comfort. And its balance on turns and curves is equally exceptional—for the rigid frame and the long springs reduce sidesway to the minimum.

Beautiful Fisher Bodies

The marvelous bodies on the Chevrolet Six reveal, as never before, the matchless artistry that has made the Fisher name renowned throughout the world for excellence in coachcraft. Longer, lower and roomier . . . finished in attractive, long-lasting colors . . . and upholstered in rich deep-tufted fabrics that give to the interiors an air of custom elegance—they introduce into the low-price field an entirely new measure of style and distinction.

Proved Dependability

Before the new Chevrolet Six was presented to the public, it had been tested for more than a million miles on the roads of the General Motors Proving Ground. Never did a new motor car go into the hands of its owners more thoroughly proved in every detail. And now, reports of its performance on the highways of the nation pay glowing tribute to its endurance and dependability.

Amazingly Low Prices

Many people do not realize that this marvelous new six-cylinder Chevrolet is actually offered in the price range of the four. Compare total delivered prices as well as factory prices when determining automobile values. You will find Chevrolet delivered prices include the lowest handling and financing charges available.

Brass Band of Norway

For Seventy-five Years Norway Can Boast of a Band—After Nearly a Century of Indifference and Neglect

Seventy-five years Norway has supported a brass band. Like many other nations there were lean years of indifference but there has been a time that a number of suits would not be gathered around a table to do an emergency job on the subject.

NORWAY SAX HORN BAND

Attention has been made of the three histories written about the band. The first history, most of which is in 1858, quotes the Sax's and adds "Wm. Wirt Virgin, an early instructor. Being a musician the band attained considerable prominence under his leadership. His history made no attempt to go beyond the foregoing, but probably because documents were not at hand. The Sax's history, dated May, 1894, is a few scattered local clips at intervals over a period of years. The third history, the most recent, is a record for information and facts which may conflict with the other two.

commented to "set in" by two and three. Within a short time the band was on its feet and going strong, helped by the services of veterans.

NORWAY BRASS BAND

Arthur E. Newsworthy was at the director's stand and surrounded by the old guard. About this time musicians at South Paris were invited to join with Norway. The band across the line have not done a natural death some years before, left a nucleus of experienced players but no leaders. Among those to accept the invitation were Han. Howe, Richard Hall, George Soper, Frank Kimball, Ed. McCardle, Douglass Farrar and Philip Mason.

As trolleys between Norway and So. Paris were the popular summer stage, the band often had seats of honor in a car to attract people into Electric Park, between the villages. Concerts were given there and a stand in the corner of Withersell Park.

After a time failing health caused Mr. Newsworthy to retire to the corner section and Frank P. Knapp was chosen director in 1896. Prof. Knapp was fresh from a long run of theatrical engagements as solo cornetist in bands and orchestras. At this stage Ed Robinson of Bridgton and Lester McAllister were accepted as members.

For a time the organization gained rapidly in numbers, popularity and proficiency. They were weekly rehearsals, outdoor concerts in warm weather and now and then a concert and dance in the Opera House. The annual county fair job held since the days of the old Norway Brass Band was the big incentive for constant practice on high grade numbers.

When funds came and some booster subscriptions from public spirited citizens new instruments and uniforms were procured. The boys made a natty appearance in blue pants, dark red coats and caps trimmed with braid. In a few years the popular black uniforms, military style, as worn today were procured after much scripping and subcription.

In the year 1901, or thereabouts, Mr. Knapp returned to his professional career and Frank P. Kimball, local druggist and clarinetist, assumed charge as director. For two years, or so, the band held on smooth water. Young players accepted chances to gain experience among them were Winfield Kimball, Carl Mason, Carl Briggs, Ray Eastman, Richard Shaw, Howard Shaw, Ben Newton and James Mason.

When Frank Kimball moved from town interest waned in spite of repeated attempts to keep going. The public also wrote lukewarm and circulating a subscription paper was a job only for the brave. Supplying fuel for the stove and rehearsing became a burden for the few who remained faithful, so lights were extinguished and playing reverted to home practice.

During the lapse, the approach of Memorial Day was a signal for Dennis Pike, Clarence Deosta, Ray Eastman, Walter Stearns and others to accept the parade engagement and round up the necessary instrumentation to play a few marches. As a rule the framework held together during the summer and the faithful struggled valiantly to keep alive the musical traditions of the past. As the personnel was about equally divided between Norway and South Paris the group in the course of events became known as the Twin Town Band. This created a good feeling in both communities.

The band gave up the County Fair job during the unsettled period and for twelve or more years other music from the city played the band held Monday evening rehearsals in Engine House Hall under the able leadership of Allie Cota. The members were: cornets, Alfred Cota, Ed Farrington, Arthur Morgan and Henry Hoamer; two clarinets, Charles Garelton and Howard Shaw; with Rae Newton, piccolo; Ben Hosmer, saxophone; Douglass Farrar, Frank Kimball, French horn; four trombones, Clarence Deosta, James Mason, Bert Garelton and Charles Bean; Walter Stearns, baritone; Harry Trivett, Leslie McAllister and Olney Burgess, bass horn; Dennis Pike, snare drum; Harley True, bass drum and bells.

NORWAY-PARIS BAND
After the World War the revival of activities called for martial music. Some of the stand-bys met the last of 1926 and decided to officially organize with by-laws and a meeting for all players was called and the organization perfected. Allie Cota of South Paris volunteered to lead and Prof. Frank P. Knapp of Gray and Portland was engaged as instructor. Some twenty signed the by-laws and for a while everything went swimmingly.

Following the suggestion of leader, Mr. Cota, Prof. Heim was invited to take charge during the summer. This was in 1927 when the famous trumpet was accepted the invitation and soon had the members working hard on a standard set. Charles Garelton, Jr. and Bert Garelton of Lovell having joined some time before, fitted in for a strong framework. Experienced players that supported some of the younger fellows who were given a chance to progress under Prof. Heim's instruction.

In the summer of 1927 with Prof. Heim as solo trumpet and leader, regular concerts started in Withersell Park. This not being a desirable place because of congestion from crowds and automobiles, a place on the high school grounds was made available and a band stand donated by Mrs. Victorine Blanchard of Norway. It has been estimated that an audience of 1,000 persons assembled on the grounds or immediate vicinity during the programs.

drew large crowds, many coming from distant towns. Their County Fair job in September was rewarded with favorable notices in the press and complimentary remarks from musicians of note, visiting the fair.

Fighting Tuberculosis

The Maine Public Health Association and its affiliated organizations are launching a movement stressing the importance of the Early Diagnosis in Tuberculosis. The National Tuberculosis Association inaugurated a like campaign in March, 1928, and the M. P. H. A., as its legal representative in Maine, handled last year's campaign, which was a decided success.

This year, the State organization learned that the National Association was advancing a similar program through out the entire United States during the month of April. Posters and pamphlets are being distributed by nurses and other health workers. Health talks, particularly stressing the fact that the early discovery of Tuberculosis means early recovery from it, are to be given during the month in many communities of Maine, as Second radio talks will be given during April on Tuberculosis and its various phases.

An interesting and instructive "Consequence" is to be given in the form of a play. The film was purchased by the Maine Public Health Association, but its showing is the gift of the managers of the theatres, which generosity is appreciated. The slogan for the month is "Early Discovery—Early Recovery." This campaign is an appeal to adults with an additional aim to reach the children. The well-recognized fact that in cases where Tuberculosis is discovered early through examination by a competent physician, and careful treatment follows, a definite and permanent cure may be expected.

A series of Chest (Lung and Heart) Clinics were held last year by the M. P. H. A. and this year a more extensive and complete program is scheduled. Whereas, in 1928, when the first clinic of this sort was held, very few cases presented themselves, last year the number in attendance was not limited. What has created this change of feeling toward the diagnostic clinic? It is simply that the Maine citizens are more highly educated in present times than they were some years ago. Not only is it physically better to keep well, but buoyant, positive health is an economical asset which cannot be overvalued.

The expenses connected with the Early Diagnosis Campaign are paid by funds derived from the sale of Christmas Health Shells and Bonds, and again the interest and co-operation in health work, of the residents of Maine are evidenced by their splendid response in the recent health shell and bond sale, without which this special phase of Tuberculosis work, the importance of the Early Diagnosis, would not be stressed this month.

Grit Magnified is like Broken Glass
The most destructive type of dirt that lodges in your floor coverings is grit. Magnify it and you will see its sharp, cutting, glass-like edges. These grind and saw away at the rug fibers, or cut sharply through them. Every passing foot, every piece of furniture moved, sets these sharp edges at work destroying your rug.

Hoover "Positive Agitation"—a cleaning principle—that vibrates the rug on cushion of air, dislodges this embedded grit and flutters it to the surface.
To the beating action of "Positive Agitation" is added sweeping to gather up the thread and lint, and suction to remove the surface dust, the swept-up lint and the flattered-loose grit.
We will gladly give you a demonstration of "Positive Agitation." Telephone us.

Public Men I Have Known

Public Men I Have Known

Albert D. Park, Register of Probate

Article No. 14, By C. F. Whitman

When I took the office of Clerk of the Courts, Albert D. Park was beginning his third year as Register of the Probate Court, an office he has since held, and if he lives to serve out his present term, will have been forty years in that office. I think this is without precedent in the whole history of the county.

There is no reason for me to think that he favored me at my first candidacy and election may be shortly. But there was no rest of any acquainted with me was not much on the other hand he came from the same section of the county as my predecessor, Col. Albert S. Austin, and was his bosom friend. I did not the reform and his bosom friend. But during the twenty years we were associated together in color and the others were of the most friendly and pleasant character. Others have said the same thing. There was never a single incident to mar the good relations we had for one another.

Mr. Park was fortunate that, in his elections, that of 1912, came in a third party campaign. That was the time that Roosevelt and Taft split the republican party asunder. It was agreed by the leaders of both factions in Maine that there would be no division of the state and county tickets in September of that year. The republican party had the usual majorities were given, but when the time came up for re-election, the republican were put up and of course elected. But though the general republican party ticket in the county had about as many sell doing anything like that.

Mr. Bean and his associates obtained our offices for quarters and would have satisfied me. But this year as in the Presidential campaign, Joe Holt could not have secured the opposition ticket. At the same time it will be his best advertisement. It will be his best advertisement. At the annual convention of the Norwegian, Charles E. Holt, secretary, elected chairman of the convention. He was credited with inducing a new head wing of his party, and was very popular.

A Portland commercial traveler, John L. Horn, a man of the law, after the town meeting, and the Horns I noticed by the papers that you are wishing town election in Norway on Friday, but I do not see how you can have elected Charles E. Holt chairman of the board of directors.

And that is easily explained. It is

Mr. Horne. "That was a time when I had been elected by the people."

And Bennett and myself had often favored Teddy, but did not like the fight between him and Taft, and we both should have voted for an independent candidate as Governor Hoag of Maine. We saw no occasion for leaving the party and throwing our vote away for a man so convinced that he would be elected that he could be elected President and that it was a time when the opposition would be elected Joe Hoak.

It may be here stated that Mr. Bennett and myself attended the state convention in Portland in 1908. I was the Oxford County member of the committee on resolutions. Charles E. Hughes was the substitute for President Taft. We were Taft, Judge Peck, Powers and myself held the balance of power in the committee. We favored Taft, but the reason that he was rejected was that he wanted nominated and the president were for him. I've since regretted my action on that committee and we much regret for the country in general. Judge Peck and Mr. Hughes a year later nominated and elected as President. That has yet deeply regretted what he did.

long enough to see its fearful consequences.

I have drifted away considerably from my genial associate of other days. There is not yet space in this article to say what I desire to about him. He does a great deal of work that the average Justice of the peace are supposed to do, and often relieves the Judge of Probate of some of his duties. The papers and records of his office are systematically and neatly arranged, and he has nothing to be desired in the way of improvement.

Mr. Park likes to rule at the Land Office and the probate and is ably aided. It was a school teacher before he was elected Register of Probate as was his first wife, and he has not ceased to be interested in educational matters.

Mr. Park is an able auctioneer, and all his other accomplishments, but I do not think he was quite equal in that to the late George A. Cole of Newbury.

I don't know how many have been placed any other meaning as some do.

dreams, but I frequently dream of being at the court house and these dream always have some connection with Park. One recently greatly amused me. He appeared to be a member of the house as a showman—a la Ezra Stepleh—exhibiting a deformed cripple—very frequently to see, as "the missing link" to an immense crowd in the street. He was born in Dixfield in 1857, is nine years younger than the wife. His father, Henry W. Park, a merchant I believe, was in his time one of the most men of the town in Mexico. He had three wives and three families children. Albert D. is very much unlike his father than any of the other I have seen.

Mr. Park, as has been remarked, very fortunate man, but in nothing has been so auspicious as in his accomplished wife. She is a lady of a very strong voice and disposition. None knew her but to admire and praise her.

Public Men I Have Known

Article No. 14, By C. F. Whitman

When I took the office of Clerk of the Court, Albert D. Park was beginning his career as Register of the Probate Court. He has since held, and will continue to hold, the office of Register of the Probate Court for many years to come.

It is the reason for me to think that I should know him, and I have known him for many years. He is a man of high character and high ability, and he is a man who is well known to all who know him.
